County Teachers To Get Pay Next Week

Perry County teachers who were not paid salaries due last week will be paid Tuesday or Wednesday, Supt. Gilbert Bowling said today.

Approximately one-third of the county teachers failed to receive their salaries on time—a delay, according to one school official, caused by the failure of State funds to arrive here on schedule.

Bowling said today the school system came up short on last week's teacher pay checks because it had borrowed money from the general fund for use on capital outlays, including the purchase of $48,000 in school buses and $27,000 for property.

Bowling, in Frankfort yesterday, said he was assured by the State that the money will be in Perry County by Monday.

He said the county school system borrowed $45,000 last month to meet part of the payroll.

Bowling estimated the monthly payroll for teachers at over $90,000.

Six Shots Fired Into Local Car

Six shots were fired early this morning into a car parked in the apartment parking lot of the Hazard Miners Memorial Hospital, State Police revealed this morning.

Police said there was apparently no motive for the shooting. The car belonged to John Brown, of Airport Gardens.

Four shots passed through the front door and two in the back at approximately 1:15 o'clock.

Rabies Season Prompts Warning

With the approach of the rabies season just around the corner, Perry County Citizens were warned advised this week not to kill "suspect animals" if at all possible.

This advice came from Rollie Johnson, administrator, Perry County Health Department, in the face of several calls the past week about rabies conditions here in the county.

Johnson said a rabies inoculation clinic will be held here within the next few weeks. Dates will be announced in the future.

The county health administrator issued the following advice:

1. If a dog or animal bites a person, confine the animal for 14 days. If rabid, the animal will die in this period of time. If the animal should die, see your doctor immediately.
2. If an animal should bite you about the shoulders, face or neck, see your doctor immediately.
3. If your pet should be bitten by another animal, observe your pet's habits for 90 days, the incubation period for rabies.
4. If the animal must be shot, do not shoot it in the head.

Johnson explained that the head is used by laboratories to test for rabies. He also noted that while the health department can advise on how and where to ship an animal's head for tests, the department cannot prepare the head for shipment or pay any of the costs.

Kenton, Man Of Names

By Charles F. Hinds

For almost nine years of his life, Simon Kenton was known as Simon Butler. It was by that name that he was first known by Daniel Boone and George Rogers Clark.

He was Simon Butler when Black Fish's warriors cut off a party of 16 men led by Boone from the Boonesborough fort. When Boone fell, his leg broken by an Indian bullet, it was Butler who carried him back to the safety of the stockade.

Under his fictitious name, Kenton was captured by the Shawnees in September, 1778, and made to suffer indescribable tortures and indignities, before finally being rescued by the British.

The story behind the alias had its beginning in Fauquier County, Virginia, in 1771, when Simon Kenton was barely 16 years of age. The year before, Kenton had fallen in love with attractive Elin Cummins, who shortly thereafter showed her fickleness by becoming the bride of William Leachman. Kenton, the aggrieved, attacked the bridegroom during the wedding festivities and was soundly whipped by the older man. Young Simon plotted revenge. The next year he attacked Leachman for the second time. Just as it appeared that Kenton was to receive another beating, the lad got a good hold on Leachman's long, braided hair and wound it so tightly around a sapling that his foe fell unconscious, bleeding copiously from the nose and mouth. Kenton fled to the pristine frontier. On the way, he stayed with a man by the name of Butler, who unwittingly provided the surname by which Kenton was first known in Kentucky.

In 1779 following his famous captivity among the Indians, Kenton learned that Leachman had survived the fight. Soon the evidence was conclusive, and Kenton began to use his own name again.

As Simon Kenton once more, he lived 56 years longer, dying in poverty at Zanesville, Ohio, in 1836. He was reintroduced in Urbana in 1865, and nineteen years still later, the State of Ohio placed a monument over his final resting place.

State Issues Results Of Fishing Survey On Middle Fork

The results of a fish population sampling of the Middle Fork of the Kentucky River were announced this week by the Department of Fish and Game, Frankfort.

Results show 37 species of fish, with three species of game, smallmouth bass, Kentucky bass and rock bass, making up 15.3 percent by weight of the population samples.

What follows is the complete text of the survey:

"On June 4, 5, 6, and 7, 1957, a pre-impoundment survey was made on the Middle Fork of the Kentucky River. A dam now under construction at Buckhorn, Perry County, Kentucky, will back up water to a point some 3 miles above the town of Hyden in Leslie County, impounding an area of approximately 3,600 surface acres at flood-control pool stage. The reservoir will have a permanent winter pool of 555 surface acres, and a summer conservation pool of approximately 1,200 surface acres.

"In order to determine the fish composition of Middle Fork prior to impoundment, 3 areas totaling 7.5 surface acres were sampled with an electric shocker.

"Area I, located on Greasy Creek about 2.5 miles below the mouth of Elk Creek, is well above the proposed upper limits of the reservoir. This area was sampled in order to learn the species (fish) composition of the headwaters of Middle Fork, and so that we may later determine just what effect the impoundment has on the fish population in this area.

"Area II is located on the Middle Fork proper approximately mid-way between the towns of Hyden and Confluence, at the mouth of Bull Creek. This area lies within the confines of the proposed reservoir, and was primarily selected to show the fish population as is expected to appear in the new impoundment.

"Area III is located approximately 2 miles above the dam site and was chosen to determine the extent population at a downstream pre-impoundment point.

"The overall sampling of Middle Fork disclosed a total of 37 species of fish, but revealed no significant differences between any of the selected study areas. Three species of game fish, smallmouth bass, Kentucky bass, and rock bass, made up 15.3 percent by weight of the population samples. Only 1 species of panfish, the longear sunfish, was collected and made up 1.4 percent by weight of the entire sample. Edible rough fish, composed chiefly of black redbreast, accounted for 67.8 percent of the total sample weight. Non-edible rough fish, lamprey, gar, and quillback, made up only 5.6 percent of the weight of the entire sample. The remainder of the sample was composed of forage species and they accounted for 9.9 percent of the total weight of all fish collected.

"On the whole, Middle Fork has a relatively high population of game fish consisting mainly of smallmouth bass. The smallmouth made up 10.3 percent of the weight of all game fish collected during the study. Edible rough fish, which includes such desirable species as flathead and channel catfish, made up the bulk of the sample weight.

"However, the sampling of this stream was necessarily limited by adverse weather conditions during the study period. Several species known to occur were not represented in the population samples. More extensive sampling is necessary to determine more accurately the fish composition of Middle Fork. Return studies have therefore been scheduled for these same areas during June of 1958.

3 Under Bond For Tuesday Theft Of TV Boosters

Three Glomaw residents are under $500 bond to the grand jury following their arrest here Tuesday night for the theft of two television boosters.

Arrested were Roy Combs, Fred Caudill and Burchell Brown for stealing the boosters from a community television line at Glomaw. Combs and Caudill were arrested at Joe Morgan's tavern by Deputy Sheriffs Hugh Stanford and Nlm Cornett shortly after the two had sold the boosters to the operator of another beer tavern.

Brown was arrested at the Glomaw Camp by Deputies Charlie Stidham, Yancey Amis, Paul Fugate and Luther Francis. He was tracked down in woods near his home after he fled the house when the deputies approached.

The boosters, locked in a metal box, were wrenched from a tree sometime during the afternoon.

Included in the plant will be a grit basin, primary and secondary clarifier, high rate trickling filter, sludge digester, sludge drying beds and appurtenances.

President W. F. O'Donnell expressed the hope that at least a part of the building will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the second semester of 1958-59 and that the entire building will be completed before the opening of the summer session of 1959.

The American Red Cross drew praise here Tuesday for the its 1957 flood disaster work from representatives of labor, government management and the churches.

This afternoon, representatives of the same group will lunch plans for the 1958 fund raising drive here during a meeting at the Kentucky Power Company at 1:15 p.m.

Tipton Carroll, churches, and Paul McGraner, Radio Station W.K.L.C., and Fred Lulgart Jr.

"During the flood, the Red Cross did a tremendous job. They didn't come in here to make the rich richer, and spent approximately $400,000 rehabilitating" people here.

"A lot of people," he continued, "thought the Red Cross came in here to help everyone. A lot of people thought they should have been helped but were not."

The Rev. Ernest Stricklin key-noted the general feeling of the meeting when he said:

"We've got to get across to the people of Perry County what the function of the Red Cross is." The Rev. Stricklin said the

Seals Over $600

The Easter Seal drive in Perry County has raised $636.50 to date, J. C. Eversole, chairman of the local drive has announced.

The campaign provided funds for care and treatment of crippled children by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children. Last year the Society gave direct service to 3,066 physically handicapped youngsters.

Growth of services and increased costs of hospital and clinic care offered by the Society make it doubly important that Perry County contributions exceed those of last year, Eversole said.

Money contributed so far in Perry County would provide 53 days of hospital care for local crippled children, according to present hospital rates.

"Our contributions could also be used to buy 127 pairs of crutches, 63 audiological tests, 63 pairs of special shoes, or 25 days of complete therapy and care at a rehabilitation center," the chairman said.

Contributions locally should be sent to Crippled Children, c/o J. C. Eversole, Hazard.

Neal Watts, of Napfor, died Saturday.

Susan Allen a long time resident, of Napfor, died at the age of 71. At the time of death she lived at Christopher. Burial was in the Meadow Branch Cemetery March 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Spencer Jr., of Napfor, have a new baby daughter. She weighed 7 lbs and 5 oz. They named her Retta.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Baker and family, of Louisville, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hope Baker, of Napfor over the weekend.

Mr. Press Stidham, of Grapevine, got stuck in the mud on the Napfor-Dunraven road with his Jeep truck. It took him sometime to jack up the truck and get out of the mud hole. He was delivering a load of groceries to Alonzo Gibson, of Napfor. He left his truck at Napfor and walked back home to Grapevine.

Rev. Billie Fugate has kept his team pretty busy this winter pulling vehicles out of the mud. I guess he will be glad to see this mud dry up. The Napfor-Dunraven road has been so bad this winter that the sick folks had to be hauled out on corn sleds four or five miles to the bus line to get to the doctor.

Mrs. Oscar Campbell was taken suddenly ill Sunday and had to be taken to the Hazard Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Soil Bank Tree Planting Provisions "Liberalized"

County ASC committees now are authorized to increase cost-sharing on establishment of trees and to increase annual per acre rentals for such land under the Soil Bank.

So says James Newman, Kentucky Extension Service forester. This liberalization of the tree-planting portion of the Soil Bank will be helpful to many Kentucky farmers, he says.

Cost sharing for planting has been authorized up to about $20 an acre, for one thing; rentals on "non-diversion" land have been authorized at 50 percent of the regular rate for land planted in trees—compared to the 30 percent rate formerly. If all "eligible land" on a farm is planted to trees, the ASC committee may pay 100 percent of the regular rate. State foresters have put aside 1,300,000 seedlings for Soil Bank plantings, Newman said. Local ASC offices have full information on the new provisions.

Local Recruiter Honored; 20 Enlist

National recognition for outstanding achievement in obtaining Navy enlistment has been granted the Hazard Navy Recruiting Station, according to chief petty officer Blankenship, who is in charge of local recruiting efforts and whose offices are in the Post Office building.

The recognition, which came in the form of a "Navy Recruiting Station of the Month" certificate, was signed by Captain M. J. Luoney, Director of Navy Recruiting in Washington, D.C., and was presented to the Local Recruiters by Lt. Cmdr. Logan Hayercraft, officer in charge of Navy recruiting for Kentucky.

The awards were based on the recruiting results obtained by the Local Recruiters during the month of January and February, when a total of 20 enlistments were made, as opposed to an assigned enlistment quota of 15. Other factors which are given consideration in the determination of "Navy Recruiting Station of the Month" citations are a high and efficient level of administrative procedures and publicity work.

"Although this 'Station of the Month' certificate was presented to the Navy Recruiters in Hazard, Chief," Blankenship said, "it is actually reflective of the cooperation and civic spirit of local citizens in helping us to make the opportunities of naval service known to young men. Without this assistance, we could never have achieved our enviable results."

Not content to rest on their laurels, the local Navy recruiters announced their intention of gaining another award in the near future. In announcing this, Blankenship pointed out that the Navy offers young men trade training, travel, and adventure, all of which combine to add up to "the career of the future."

"Special enlistment programs are available to high school graduates," Chief Blankenship said, "and qualified young men may select their branch of specialized training before they enlist."

He emphasized however, that "the Navy is made up of specialists and every man who enlists, regardless of whether he is a high school graduate, has

It Proves Too Much

By A. C. Grider

A Baptist Preacher recently said, "get your dictionary and look up the word 'for'." Now what did he want you to do that for? To try to prove that baptism is BECAUSE OF remission of sins. Will he take the DICTIONARY definition of "Baptism"? No, a thousand times NO! And why won't he? Because the dictionary defines baptism as SINKING etc. He will appeal to the dictionary on the word "for" because he can TWIST it to support his doctrine.

The Baptist Preacher KNOWS that the word "for" in Acts 2:38 comes from the Greek word "eis." He KNOWS the Greek word "eis" can be translated into several different words one of which is "for." But he also KNOWS that the word (when translated "for") never DID, never CAN, and never WILL mean "because of." If he doesn't know that, he doesn't know enough to be trying to lead the people.

But let's look further at his predicament. We read (in Matt. 26:28) that Christ shed his blood FOR the remission of sins. It is the SAME expression as in Act 2:38. Not only is it the same expression in the ENGLISH, but it is the SAME expression in the GREEK. Jesus shed his blood FOR THE REMISSION OF SINS. Repent and be baptized FOR THE REMISSION OF SINS. Now in order to support a FALSE DOCTRINE, we are told that "for" means "because of remission." If it does, then Jesus shed his blood BECAUSE OF the remission of sins. Believe it, who can?

But let's look further at the predicament, of the denominational preacher. The passage under consideration (Acts 2:38) says REPENT AND BE BAPTIZED for the remission of sins. What ever baptism is "for," REPENTANCE is "for." They (repentance and baptism) are tied together with a coordinating conjunction (and) and whatever is alleged of one must be alleged of the other. Hence, if "for" means "because of" and we are to be baptized BECAUSE OF the remission of sins, then we are to REPENT "because of" the remission of sins.

After all is said and done we still have this situation in Acts 2. You can read it for yourself and see if I am telling the truth. First, the people are MURDERERS (verse 26) They (repentance and baptism) are tied together with a coordinating conjunction (and) and whatever is alleged of one must be alleged of the other. Hence, if "for" means "because of" and we are to be baptized BECAUSE OF the remission of sins, then we are to REPENT "because of" the remission of sins.

Let me appeal to you to attend the services at the Lothair Church of Christ. Learn what the will of the Lord is and obey it. He is the author of eternal salvation to all that OBEY him. Heb. 5:8-9. Those who DO his sayings will be wise and their house will stand. Matt. 7:24.

YOUR CHURCH AND MINE

You go to your church, and I'll go to mine,
But let's walk along together;
Our Father has built them side by side,
So let's walk along together.
The road is rough and the way is long,
But we'll help each other over;
You go to your church and I'll go to mine,
But let's walk along together.

You go to your church, and I'll go to mine,
But let's walk along together;
Our heavenly Father is the same,
So let's walk along together.
The chiming of your church ring loud and clear,
They chime with the chiming of my church;
You go to your church, and I'll go to mine,
But let's walk along together.

You go to your church, and I'll go to mine,
But let's walk along together;
Our heavenly Father loves us all,
So let's walk along together.
The Lord will be at my church today,
But He'll be at your church also;
You go to your church, and I'll go to mine,
But let's walk along together.

—Phillips H. Lord.

THE RESURRECTION

Winn T. Barr

Paul said, "Remember that Jesus Christ was raised from the dead." There are three occasions when we should especially remember this fact: when we say farewell to our loved ones, when we gather every Lord's Day for worship, and at Easter. The resurrection of Christ is a vital part of the Gospel. We have Paul's definition of the Gospel in 1 Cor. 15, where he says, "I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the Scriptures."

Now, there is nothing unusual in the fact that Jesus died and was buried. That happens to everybody, except Enoch and Elijah; no Gospel in the fact that Jesus died and was buried! The Gospel consists of four things: why He died—for our sins; the manner of His death—according to the Scriptures; the end of His death—He arose from the dead; and the manner in which He arose from the dead—according to the Scriptures, also. Those are the things, the surrounding and connected circumstances, which make the death and burial, and which turn a death into a Gospel and a matter of good news.

First of all, the reason for His death was our sin, Christ died for our sins. Whatever one's theory of the atonement may be, we must agree on this: that He died because of our sins; not because of His own, because He had none. In some sense or other, He acted as our proxy. Christ died because of our sins. Therein lies a great part of the Gospel.

And then, He died in a certain manner, according to the Scriptures. Where the New Testament speaks of "the Scriptures," it means the Old Testament, and Jesus did die according to the Old Testament. The marvelous thing about the death of Christ is that it was described hundreds of years before it happened. It is nothing to describe your death or mine. But the best description of the death of Jesus that we have anywhere was written around one thousand years before it happened. If I should ask you to write a description of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ, you could not write as good a description, as David wrote one thousand years ahead of time. Christ died according to the 22nd Psalm. That's worth remembering, because that recommends His death as something very, very special. David has written in the 22nd Psalm the very words of Jesus when he said: "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" He tells us that He was surrounded by a crowd that looked at Him and watched Him and laughed at Him and scorned Him. He tells us what the crowd said to Him: "He trusted on the Lord that he would deliver him; let him deliver him, seeing he delighted in him."

Then he goes on to describe in detail the death and suffering of Jesus, His feeling, what He saw, how He felt, His silent prayer to the Father while He was dying. All His bones were out of joint. That is exactly what happens in crucifixion; hanging there hour after hour after hour, the wrists, elbows and shoulders become dislocated. They would hold up for a while, but finally they must give way and relax from fatigue, and the joints become dislocated. "All my bones are out of joint," it says in Psalm 22.

"My heart is like wax. It is melted." People tell us that under extreme torture they feel like they are burning up inside. My strength is dried up. My tongue sticks to my jaw. He was thirsty. "Thou hast brought See Resurrection Back Page

LETTER FROM MRS. JOHN SHERMAN COOPER

Coopers Entertain India Vice President

The Vice President of India came to Washington for two days last week and we were so glad to see him again. He is one of the most versatile men in public life today. Dr. Radhakrishnan has been Vice President of India since April 6, 1952, when India held her first national election, and was re-elected to the same office in 1956. He is a distinguished Professor of Philosophy and an authority on Oriental religions. He has served India as Ambassador, has been her delegate to various United Nations meetings, was knighted by the British Government and given India's highest award, the "Bharat Ratna." He is a Fellow of the British Academy and a Fellow of all Soul's College, Oxford, and one of the best authors in India, besides being a most astute politician and a perfectly delightful man.

I will always remember sitting in the Indian Senate, which they call Raja Sabha, in Delhi, and watching Dr. Radhakrishnan preside with his noted political skill in the impressive setting of the Indian Parliament Chamber. He sits on a dais in a high-backed wooden chair with a tremendous crimson canopy overhead, and usually wears a white turban, rather like the late Queen Mary's hats, which is extremely becoming to him, and the traditional long white coat and light white jodhpurs. When an official from a foreign country arrives in Washington, the program during his stay here is arranged by his Embassy and our State Department. Dr. Radhakrishnan arrived on Monday and on Tuesday was asked to lunch by our Vice President at the Capitol. My husband told me that this was a particularly interesting lunch. There were about 15 Senators invited to the Vice President's dining room in the Capitol and as Dr. Radhakrishnan has the same position in India as our Vice President, they talked about the similarity and difference of procedure in the two bodies. Although very few people realize it, India with her 400 million people has the highest percentage of voters going to the polls in any country in the world. One of the things that startled all of our Senators was the fact that Dr. Radhakrishnan in two nationwide campaigns had only spent $10.00. He had been unanimously selected as Vice President of the Congress Party in both elections and the $10.00 was a penalty for late filing due to his absence from the country.

That night Chief Justice Warren gave a dinner for him in the Supreme Court Building and the next day he called on our President in the White House and then had a visit with our Secretary of State, Mr. Dulles. On that same afternoon, the State Department had asked us to give a tea for him which pleased me very much as the dinners and luncheons had been for men only.

We kept our guest list very small and asked friends who had known Dr. Radhakrishnan before and whom he had not had an opportunity of seeing in Washington. Among our guests were Mr. Justice William Douglas and Mrs. Douglas, Mr. Justice Frankfurter, Mrs. John Foster Dulles, Mrs. Henry Grady the wife of our first Ambassador to India, the Director of the National Gallery of Art and Mrs. John Walker, The Deputy Under Secretary of State and Mrs. Douglas Dillon, and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth. It was one of those snowy days and I think every one enjoyed sitting by the fire and having a hot cup of tea. Entertaining in Washington has its hazards, nevertheless, and none of the Senators, including my husband, could leave the Senate at 5 o'clock as there was a pending vote on an agricultural bill. It was fortunate that the Indian Vice President was the one person who could really understand their predicament as the same thing happens in Delhi.

Mr. Allen Hicks, 52, Dies At Home

Mr. Allen Hicks, 52, died at his home March 29. He was a disabled miner.

He is survived by his wife, Evelyn Hicks, two sons, Murchel Allen and Mickey Allen, three daughters, Elizabeth, Patty Sue and Joe Horra Allen.

The Hindman Funeral Home was in charge of services.

Sgt. Couch Has Role In Exercise

M/Sgt Ernest Couch, of Slem and fellow soldiers of the 519th Field Artillery Battalion, will participate as an aggressor force for exercise "Indian River." As aggressors their mission will be to perform as a realistic enemy for the entire maneuver.

"Indian River" will be a 16,000 man "war" fought over 270,000 acres of Cascade foothills at Yakima Training Center from May 6 to May 20.

M/Sgt Couch, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Couch, Slem, is in HQ and HQ Battery of the 519th Field Artillery Battalion. He is assigned as a Motor Sergeant of the Maintenance Section.

The upcoming maneuver will employ the 4th Division "Saints" and several thousand troops from other posts and Fort Lewis units in one of the first major tests of the Army's new pentomic battle order.

Combat training will include offensive and defensive actions under atomic, electronic, chemical-biological-radiological, guerrilla and psychological warfare conditions.

Simulated atomic blasts will add further battle realism. Also planned are the air lift of a reinforced battle group and use of new devices which harmlessly simulate radioactive fallout and its detection.

The C. R. Mooney and Mrs. L. P. Smith visited with Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Bunch at Loyall Sunday afternoon.

Lindsey Chapman, Bill Cornett and Coleman Callahan had quite a good short fishing trip at the Norris Lake this past week end despite the cool rainy weather.

A fund raising dinner was given at the Leatherwood School, Saturday, March 29. The purpose of this was to raise money to buy seats for the new gym. The turnout was rather good, but not hardly what was expected. The amount taken in and the number present will be given later. An excellent meal was served consisting of ham, sweet potatoes, beans, a salad, hot rolls, coffee and cakes, ice cream and cake.

Mr. D. C. Couch says, if something isn't done about our roads here on Leatherwood everyone will have to park their cars and walk.

There will be a guest speaker at the Berean Baptist Church Sunday morning. Rev. Dwane McCwm, who is formerly the pastor here for a short period, but is now a missionary in Hawaii.

Recipe Of The Week

Budget-minded housewives—and who isn't these days—are reminded by UK Extension food specialists that there are several cuts of lamb that are among the best buys in the meat line.

While it is true that leg of lamb and lamb chops are on the costly side, delightful dishes result when the cheaper cuts—shoulder, neck, breast, or shanks—are used. Long slow cooking with moist heat add to both the flavor and tenderness of the cut.

Braised Lamb Neck Slices In Sour Cream

2 lb lamb neck slices
1/2 c flour
1 1/2 t salt
1/8 t pepper
2 T fat
1/2 c chopped onion
3 bouillon cubes dissolved in 3 c boiling water
1 T lemon juice
1/2 t oregano
1 c sour cream

Mix together the flour and seasonings in a paper bag. Place individual neck slices in the bag and shake to coat the meat with flour mixture. Brown in hot fat over moderate heat. Add remainder of ingredients except sour cream. Reduce heat to very low, cover skillet and allow to simmer for 2 hours or until tender. If the liquid cooks away, add a little water.

When meat is tender push it to one side and add sour cream, stirring to blend well with the drippings. Heat slowly and serve very hot on cooked fine noodles; sprinkling liberally with paprika if desired.

Menu: Braised lamb neck slices in sour cream on fine noodles, green beans, harvard beets, carrot-pineapple congeal-

TRUTH-AD FOR THE UNCHURCHED

By WINN T. BARR

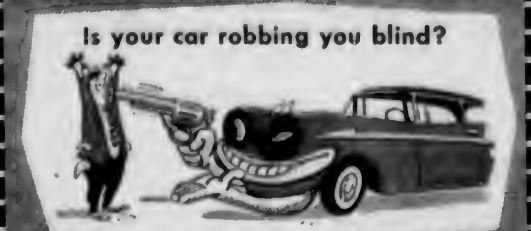

At the very beginning of Christ's ministry it is said, "Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John" (John 4:1,2). The making of disciples is accomplished before the baptizing of disciples. If you have to keep all of God's commands in order to be saved, when is one saved? When is one good enough? Not until he does all that God says. How many have done all that He says? None, for no one is as good as Jesus, and He is the standard. "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23). "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us" (1 John 1:8). If you make salvation depend on doing all of God's commands, you make salvation impossible. If salvation is by works, how good must one be to get it? Perfect. No one is perfect, and no one is saved if it is by works.

The truth is that we obtain forgiveness by conversion, then the new life results in good works. First we are made disciples, then we are baptized. Then we do the best we can to please the One who forgave us and made us love Him. A Christian is not a perfect person. A Christian is one who got forgiveness and a love for God by faith, and does the best works he can for the one he loves.

The good NEWS belongs in the NEWSpaper, but LOOK in the BOOK It comes from, and SEARCH for the CHURCH that obeys that book most fully.

You are invited to come to the First Baptist Church of Hazard on Easter Sunday. There will be two identical morning worships: one at 8:30, and the second at 10:50. You can take your choice.

Look for a TRUTH-AD every Thursday.

Resurrection

me into the dust of death." It was an execution, not just a flogging or a whipping. This is a death we are having described here; an execution. He goes on to say: "They pierced my hands and my feet." David wrote that before crucifixion was invented, before the Romans ruled the world and invented crucifixion. "I may tell all my bones." He was stripped and humbled before the crowd, and as he was hanging there limply, he could count his protruding bones. As he was stretched out on the cross the crowd looked and stared upon him. They parted his garments among them, and cast lots.

How could David know all this one thousand years before? I tell you my friends, when Jesus died, He died according to the Old Testament; He died according to Psalm 22; He died according to Isaiah 53; He died according to the animal sacrifices of the tabernacle, which spoke of His coming and His salvation. One reason we know that Jesus Christ was the Son of God, is that He died according to the Scriptures. And these facts, recommend to you that this is the written Word of God, and He is living Word of God. You cannot find more convincing, more convicting evidence than I have just given you. Yes, He died for our sins, because of our sins; and He died according to the Old Testament, proving who He was.

Then He arose over death. He did not stay dead. He proved that death is a curable disease. He proved that there is victory over the grave. He proved the power and inventions of God; He demonstrated His deity in His resurrection. "He was declared to be the Son of God with power according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead (Rom. 1:4).

And mind you, even His resurrection was according to the Scriptures, too. For it was predicted in Psalm 16: "Thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption." David told us that the Holy One, that His body, would not see decay; and that His soul would not remain in Hades; it would go there, but not remain; He would die, but He would live again.

He said the 20 per cent figure is "comparable with the big depression in the 30's. I submit that these communities are not in a position to borrow even at low interest rates ...

"Thousands of families in my district depend for their subsistence on the federal food-distribution program. I receive letters daily from neighbors... about hunger and deprivation from which people are suffering."

Cooper Sponsors Proposal
The Fulbright proposal is sponsored by Senators J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, and several others. Congressman Brent Spence, Fort Thomas, Ky., Democrat, has placed the same proposal before the House.

Under the plan, the Government would make long-term loans for nearly any type of local public project at low interest rates—probably not exceeding 3 per cent.

Perkins said the proposal should be amended to make grants to communities that have had an insured-unemployment rate of higher than 10 per cent for at least two years.

Favors Longer Federal Pay
He also favored federal grants for lengthening the period of unemployment benefits. The Eisenhower Administration has

Perkins Wants Grants, Not Loans

Says Hard-Up Areas Can't Afford Even Low Interest For Projects

Congressman Carl D. Perkins asserted March 26 that Government grants—not just loans—are needed for public-works projects in hard-up areas.

He told the Senate Banking and Currency Committee he approved of the $2,000,000,000 Fulbright proposal of federal loans for a wide variety of local projects.

But he said some places, particularly in his Seventh Kentucky District, are so hard hit economically they cannot take advantage of a loan program.

Perkins, Hindman, Democrat, said more than 20 per cent of workers who can claim unemployment pay are out of jobs in some parts of his district.

Up to 40 Per Cent Idle
In one area, Olive Hill and Morehead, insured unemployment "exceeds 40 per cent," he declared.

He said the 20 per cent figure is "comparable with the big depression in the 30's. I submit that these communities are not in a position to borrow even at low interest rates ...

"Thousands of families in my district depend for their subsistence on the federal food-distribution program. I receive letters daily from neighbors... about hunger and deprivation from which people are suffering."
